

GP'S NEEDED FOR ENDOMETRIOSIS STUDY

The general practitioner (GP) plays an important role in identifying people in the early stages of endometriosis. This study is being conducted to acquire information about awareness and knowledge of endometriosis and clinical strategies taken among New Zealand GPs.

To participate in the 20-minute survey, scan the QR code to complete an online form to receive the survey link or visit:
www.insightendometriosis.org.nz/gpresearchproject

This project has been supported by the Waikato Medical Research Foundation

